Benson Plans Russian Tour This Summer

Farm Secretary May Be First Cabinet Man to Visit Reds

Washington —AP— Secretary of Agriculture Benson is planning a trip to Russia—the first so far by a cabinet officer of the Eisenhower administration.

Benson said Friday he was accepting an invitation from V. Matskevich, Soviet minister of agriculture.

He said he hopes to make the trip in July—probably for about 10 days, as part of a program to encourage exchange visits of leading citizens of both nations.

Matskevich extended the invitation to Benson while touring the United States in 1955 with other Russian farm specialists.

In announcing his plans, Benson made public a letter to Matskevich saying:

"I have not forgotten your kind invitation to visit the Soviet Union which was recently renewed by Ambassador Menshikov. If I can get away, I hope to be able to visit your country in July . . .

"I should like to visit not only places of interest in Moscow, but also some of the more important agricultural areas in your country. I am especially interested in seeing some farms and research centers.

"I am much impressed by the progress being made in the exchanges of agricultural delegations between our two countries. They should result in mutual benefit."

Benson said he has been considering the trip for some time and that the state department endorses the visit in return for the Matskevich tour.

Intinerary Incomplete
A statement by Benson's office said the secretary's itinerary has not been completed but likely will include visits to other European countries.

Benson's trip will mark the first visit to Russia by a high U.S. official since Gen. Nathan Twining, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, went there two years ago while he was air force chief of staff.

Clamp Blackout On News From Bargaining Talks
Detroit —AP— A news blackout went into effect today as General Motors corporation and the United Auto Workers union met in their first Saturday contract bargaining session.

The UAW and GM and Ford Motor company agreed yesterday to reinstate the blackout which was lifted last weekend Chrysler corporation and the union are expected to reach a similar agreement when they resume new contract talks Monday.

The blackout is scheduled to last until May 15, but either side can lift it by giving the other 24 hour notice.

Today's GM-UAW session also results from an agreement reached yesterday. Work in progress against a May 29 contract expiration deadline, they agreed to meet today in their first weekend session and hold four full-day sessions next week.

Increasing Criticism
Both men are aware that there has been increasing criticism in Canada of heavy reliance, particularly economic, on the United States.

Last year this country exported to Canada $3,880,000,000 worth of goods, while Canadian exports to the United States totaled $2,900,000,000. U.S. economists explain that the billion dollar bulge in favor of the United States was made up by the flow of American investment capital into Canada.

The prime minister is regarded here as a man who favors the closest possible cooperation between Canada and the United States in military, political and economic fields. But Diefenbaker is said also to want increased Canadian trade with Britain and other commonwealth countries and to intend to make sure that Canada's voice is listened to in Washington.

Diefenbaker's progressive-conservative party, which holds firm control of the Canadian house of commons, has some outspoken critics of what they consider to be Canada's economic dependence on the United States.

Uprising Fails on Eve Of Colombia Election

Arctic Inspection Plan Expected to Get NATO Backing

Dulles Departs for Conference; Calls Russian Veto 'Frightening'

Durham, N.H. —AP— Secretary of State Dulles was en route to Copenhagen today for a NATO conference at which he is expected to pick up fresh support for President Eisenhower's Arctic inspection plan despite a Russian veto yesterday.

Before taking off from Pease air force base in nearby Portsmouth Friday night, Dulles branded as "frightening" the Soviet veto in the United Nations security council.

"The result is tragic," but the United States will "refuse to be discouraged," Dulles told 800 persons attending an atomic power institute at the University of New Hampshire.

"We remain willing to join in any dependable arrangement which will reduce the risk of surprise or accidental attack or, on a fair basis, reduce armaments," the secretary of state declared.

At the choice of the Soviet Union, the fears and the risks continue," Dulles said. "They continue for one reason alone, and that is because the Soviet Union rejects international inspection against surprise attack."

Dulles said "the significance of that is frightening. It means that at the will and choice of the Soviet Union we shall have to go on living on the edge of an awful abyss from which he could, so readily, be rescued if only the Soviet Union did not insist on retaining for itself the possibility of massive surprise attack against us."

The secretary did not tell his banquet audience what he expected to accomplish at the North Atlantic foreign ministers meeting, opening Monday in the Danish capital.

International Problems
However, the conference is scheduled to review a wide range of international problems and there have been reports it will support the U.S. polar inspection plan in a public statement.

Dulles also is expected to discuss with NATO ministers the U.S. position on preparation for a summit conference.

In his far-ranging foreign policy address, delivered only a few hours after he was advised of Russia's latest veto, Dulles said the security council "is hobbled by the veto power."

Noting that Russia "reacted violently" to President Eisenhower's recent proposal that security council members exercise greater restraint, Dulles said:

"Nevertheless, we shall persist in seeking to strengthen the United Nations." He didn't elaborate on this point.

Strike Called At Neenah Firm
220 Workers at Hardwood Products Leave Jobs Over Pay

Neenah — Workers at Hardwood Products corporation here went out on strike at 2:45 Friday afternoon as negotiations between the company and the carpenter and joiners union broke down. The union contains 220 production workers.

Wages was the only issue at point in the negotiations breakdown. John Lacey, Milwaukee federal conciliator, met with union and company representatives at Friday's bargaining session.

Jay Merrill, Menasha, union president, said that pickets will take posts at the plant on N. Lake street Monday morning. A company spokesman said the union had assured the firm that everything would be handled in a peaceful and orderly manner.

New Contract
Negotiations began March 4 to arrive at a new contract to succeed the one which expired Wednesday. Both the company and union declined to comment on what was being offered and sought as to wages.

Both parties expressed a willingness to meet at any time suitable to the other party and Lacey has offered his services whenever wanted.

The strike was reported to have been a surprise to some of the union members.

Davis Reaffirms Senate Position
Racine —AP— Former Rep. Glenn Davis repeated today that he will not be a candidate for Republican nomination to the U. S. senate unless he receives party endorsement, and he added that he is not seeking the endorsement.

But in an address keynoting the annual convention of the Wisconsin Federation of Young Republicans here, he attacked the Democratic party, its candidates and its elected legislative members from Wisconsin.

The former GOP representative from Waukesha twice sought the GOP senate nomination but was defeated, in 1956 and 1957 by Sen. Alexander Wiley and former Gov. Walter Kohler Jr., respectively. He is now practicing law in Waukesha.

Cancel Plans to Reopen New York City Church
New York —AP— Plans to reopen the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity in Brooklyn tomorrow have been canceled.

The Rt. Rev. James P. DeWolfe bishop of Long Island, announced in a statement last night that the strife-torn church would remain closed until "order is established."

Holy Trinity has been closed since last July pending legal and ecclesiastical battles over the ouster of the Rev. Mr. Howard Melish as acting pastor. (photo)

South Korea Vote Unfair, Officer Says

Seoul, Korea —AP— Vice President Chang Myun today charged that yesterday's national assembly elections were unfair.

Late returns indicated President Syngman Rhee's liberals would retain control of the 1-house legislature with a reduced margin over Chang's opposition Democrats.

Chang avoided directly accusing Rhee's administration of corrupting the balloting. But he said the Democrats "could have won a more nationwide victory if a fair and clean election were held."

The vice president contended newspaper reports and other dispatches from outlying areas showed there had been conspicuous interference in the election.

Rural areas went for Rhee as expected and the democrats were strong in the cities. Chang said the city results "clearly tell where the genuine will of the people lies."

Incomplete unofficial returns gave the liberals 104 of the 1-house legislature's 233 seats. Vice President Chang Myun's democrats had taken 61, with independents getting 23 and the minor unity party 1.

Peaceful Government
The presidential election is being held under a 16-year truce between the conservatives and liberals. The truce is designed to put the nation back on the track of peaceful government after eight years of feuding that cost an estimated 100,000 lives.

The plotters led by Col. Hernandez Forero struck yesterday. They invaded the homes of junta members, touched off dynamite charges and took their victims to a military police barracks 100 yards from the presidential palace.

Those seized were Maj. Gen. Gabriel Paris, the junta president; Maj. Gen. Deogracia Forsecia, Brig. Gen. Rafael Navas Pardo and Brig. Gen. Luis Ordonez. Lleras was picked up but he got away in the confusion when his captors ran into a loyal army patrol near the palace.

Texas Reeling Under 6th Day Of Rain, Wind
Dallas —AP— Texas reeled into its ninth straight day of violent weather as tornadoes, floods and thunderstorms plagued the state again today.

What were described by some witnesses as tornadoes hit Leesburg between Pittsburg and Winstonsboro in east Texas Saturday.

Violent winds smashed through Longview. A tornado blew a roof off a house near Lasoya, about 15 miles south of San Antonio today—a followup on an outbreak of tornadoes in the San Antonio area Friday morning.

Widespread flooding occurred in southwest and central Texas, while north central and northeast Texas streams continued on rampages.

Believe Coup Planned to Prevent Vote

Bogota, Colombia —AP— Colombia prepared today to elect its first constitutional president in a decade after failure of an attempted military coup to prevent it.

In an almost bloodless uprising early Friday some 1,500 soldiers seized the leading candidate in tomorrow's election and four members of the 5-man ruling junta. But the fifth junta member rallied loyal forces and forced the rebels to back down.

Futile Attempt
Rear Adm. Ruben Piedrahita, the fifth junta member, blamed the 7-hour uprising on persons who resent the impending emergence of a constitutional government in this South American nation. The political beliefs of the rebels were not immediately known.

The uprising followed a futile attempt Wednesday to disrupt the election. That attempt was staged by supporters of Gustavo Rojas Pinilla, former dictator who was ousted a year ago.

Rojas has been in Spain but last night he flew from Bermuda to Barbados, a Caribbean island 1,300 miles northeast of Bogota. He told a reporter he knew nothing of the uprising.

Rojas said he hoped to go to the United States after a 5-day visit in Barbados.

The attempted uprising was called an act of lunacy by former President Alberto Lleras Camargo, the odds-on favorite to be elected tomorrow under an agreement by the two leading political parties to back him.

Indonesia May Go to Big 3 Agrees to UN on Intervention Separate Talks

Demands Nationalist China Stop Interfering in Internal Conflict

Jakarta, Indonesia —AP— Indonesia threatened today to complain to the United Nations unless Nationalist China takes "immediate steps to prevent its nationals from interfering in Indonesia's internal rebellion."

Foreign Minister Subandrio made the threat after President Sukarno accused the United States of intervening to support the rebels in this island republic's 24-month-old rebellion. Subandrio did not indicate that Indonesia also would complain of U. S. interference.

Subandrio talked with U. S. Ambassador Howard Jones for two hours. He then told newsmen that if Chinese intervention goes on unchecked, Indonesia might do more than take the issue to the UN. He did not elaborate.

Shortly after the revolutionary government was declared in central Sumatra Feb. 15, the Jakarta government charged that planes flying from Formosa — home of the Chinese Nationalist government — were dropping U. S. arms to the rebels.

Lack of Understanding
In the past week rebels in northern Celebes have been conducting air raids across the northeastern part of this sprawling nation. The government has charged that U. S. pilots are flying some of the planes. Subandrio said yesterday he was convinced "the problem can be solved through diplomatic channels."

Sukarno told a rally in Bandung last night the United States should "not play with fire in Indonesia. Let not a lack of understanding by America lead to a third world war," he said.

Husband, Young Wife And Former Convict Found Shot to Death
Laramie, Wyo. —AP— An expectant mother, her husband and a former convict were found shot to death in a car parked near the city dump Friday in what police termed an apparent case of double murder and suicide.

Officers said Othel Lee House, 23, one of the victims, was paroled one week ago from the Wyoming penitentiary at Rawlins.

A .410 gauge shotgun at House's feet was the death weapon. He had been shot in the head. Mrs. Helen Adkins, about 25, was shot in the chest as she sat beside House in the back seat of the car.

The woman's husband, Oscar (Frank) Adkins, 26, died as he sat at the steering wheel.

Southerners Meet to Study Racial Violence
Jacksonville, Fla. —AP— Representatives of 20 southern cities meet today to discuss racial bombings which have plagued five cities.

Incidents have occurred at Nashville, Tenn.; Montgomery and Birmingham, Ala.; and Miami and Jacksonville.

Washington has driven his nation toward Russia, Sukarno said. He asked for a reappraisal of U. S. policy toward Indonesia.

"We don't want to copy the Soviet Union or the United States," the nationalist leader said. "We are not the yes men of any foreign country. . . .

Russia has supported Indonesia in international disputes, and has offered to lend money, Sukarno said. "The U. S. light has grown dim. The other light is bright."

Hoover Released From Hospital
New York —AP— Former President Herbert Hoover left the hospital today where he had undergone a successful operation for removal of his gall bladder two weeks ago.

The 83-year-old former chief executive left the Harkness pavilion of the Columbus-Presbyterian medical center at 8:30 and went directly to his apartment in the Waldorf Towers.

Ever since the operation hospital bulletins have commented on Hoover's recuperative powers.

West Gives in to Red Demands on Summit Groundwork
Paris —AP— The western big three reluctantly agreed today that their Moscow ambassadors continue separate consultations with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko on preparations for a summit conference.

Britain, France and the United States said in a new note to Moscow they still had not modified their view that more rapid progress could be made in joint talks.

Basic Task
The west gave in, however, "because it desires to get on with the basic task" of preparing the groundwork for a summit talk, the note added.

The Russians on April 20 rejected a demand for joint talks and said that if the west persisted on this point, Poland and Czechoslovakia should also take part to equalize east-west representation in preliminary negotiations.

The west is opposed to any such enlargement of the preliminary talks for fear of the precedent it would set in future conversations on questions in which the big four has primary responsibility.

Ike, Dulles Will Visit Canada in Personal Bid to Tighten Relations
Washington —AP— President Eisenhower will visit Ottawa next July in a personal bid to tighten U. S. relations with Canada, this country's nearest NATO ally and best customer.

The White House announced Friday that the president and Mrs. Eisenhower will visit the Canadian capital July 8-10. They will be accompanied by Secretary of State and Mrs. Dulles on what was officially described as an informal trip.

Policy Talks
The schedule, to be announced later in detail, is expected to allow time for full scale policy talks by Eisenhower with Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker who invited Eisenhower to visit.

Diplomats of both countries hope that out of those talks will come better Canadian-U.S. relations, especially in handling economic problems which have caused increasing difficulties in recent years.

Eisenhower will address a joint session of the Canadian parliament during his visit. The White House said the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will spend the first night of their stay at Rideau hall as guests of Canada's governor general, Vincent Massey.

This will be Eisenhower's second trip to Ottawa as president. He went there in November 1953. Dulles has made several trips for talks with Canadian leaders during his more than five years as secretary of state.

Diefenbaker's progressive-conservative party, which holds firm control of the Canadian house of commons, has some outspoken critics of what they consider to be Canada's economic dependence on the United States.

The prime minister is regarded here as a man who favors the closest possible cooperation between Canada and the United States in military, political and economic fields. Insurance to Be Available For Children

Recreational Office Offers Coverage for Summer Play Events

Kaukauna — A new policy to protect youngsters participating in recreation department sponsored activities during the summer months has been adopted, according to Robert Vanevenhoven, recreation director.

Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association insurance policies will be made available to all youngsters and will cover the child from June 1 to Sept. 1, according to Vanevenhoven. The insurance is being made available to persons from four years of age to 20 years.

Parents wishing to have their youngsters covered under the policy are asked to register at the recreation office where they will pay a slight fee for the coverage. Deadline for application for insurance has been set for May 29 to permit the list to be compiled prior to the start of the recreational activities, said the director.

The insurance will not cover children while playing at home or in their back yards but only when it is supervised recreation department activities. It will cover accidents such as falling at the pool, being hurt playing softball or baseball, cuts or bruises sustained in parks where supervised play is held and other injuries.

Complete details on the policy may be obtained by calling the recreation director.

Anglers Hit Streams for First Full Trout Weekend

Fishermen Kept at Home by Mid-Week Opener Will be Out in Force for Weekend

BY JAY REED

Post-Crescent Outdoor Editor

Wausau — Wisconsin trout fishermen, stymied by a mid-week opening, get down to business this weekend and the general expectation is that pressure will be heavy on most streams here.

Weather conditions probably will be cloudy with scattered rain. Most trout prefer clouds to sunshine and rain will not cause too much harm as long as it is gentle enough not to muddy the water.

Reports from opening day and Thursday indicate fishermen in the near northeast area had something of the better of it insofar as fish in the creek is concerned.

Limit Catches
Conservation Warden Ken Corbett, Clintonville, said the number of limit catches were about normal for early season angling. Pressure was heaviest, he said, on the Pigeon river, Hyde creek, the Little Wolf, south fork of the Little Wolf, Comet and Dent creeks, Keller lake and Blake, Spalding and Whitcomb creeks.

Among the best trout producers here was the Crystal river. Ralph Raiche, route 3, Appleton, prowled the banks of the Crystal opening day and had creel his limit of German Browns by mid-morning. Raiche used artificials to fill up—a French spinner, he said, was the best.

Ted Laib, Clintonville, netted seven brookies opening day.

Paul Gennigan and Ken Gothe, both of Menasha, produced two of the best catches of the early season. They creel-ed their limit on the Little Wolf. The bag included rain-bows, brownies and brooks. Walleye and northern waters through the state were all but deserted, wardens reported.

as most anglers headed for their favorite trout streams.

Heavy Pressure
At Stewart lake in Dane county trout were described as biting like Lake Mendota perch for the first 45 minutes of opening day. Lyle Esser, conservation department fish management official, said an estimated 1,500 trout were taken from Stewart in a 6 or 7 hour period. Most of the fish over 15 inches in length had been planted by the department earlier.

Pressure was called heavy at Silver lake in Portage county and only about 125 fish were taken on opening day. Ed Hein, of the department, said the rush to get to trout waters in the Madison area was so great that some fishermen didn't actually get to fish where they wanted. He said crowded conditions existed on virtually all favorite streams and ponds.

Waters in northern sections were described as either normal or lower than average for this time of year. In most cases it was clear and in good condition for fishing.

Generally, if you are a trout fisherman, you'd better grab your rod and take to the woods. Fishing, it appears, is pretty good.

Committee Hears of Work Directed Toward Aiding Deer, Grouse, Fowl

Post-Crescent, Madison Bureau

Madison — Consolidation of state-owned lands within the Navarino marsh public hunting grounds area being developed in Shawano county has proceeded sufficiently to permit the early application of intensive game management principles there.

The upland game committee of the Wisconsin conservation congress got that advice recently during a tour of inspection of game management projects in the northeastern counties.

The tour was made under the escort of conservation department fieldmen who are supervising a variety of development works on numerous public land acquisitions in that section.

The Navarino marsh, with a potential state ownership of about 9,300 acres, is one of the key projects in that section and is the only substantial unit of wild land remaining in Shawano county.

As explained to the congress committee, the management practices will be directed toward the benefit of a variety of wildlife, including deer, ruffed grouse, pheasants, waterfowl, rabbits, squirrels, woodcock and sharp-tailed grouse.

Food For Game
Plans call for the provision of access facilities, the establishment of game food patches, controlled burning and the creation through damming of a number of small water impoundments.

"Due to its location, hunter use without question will increase greatly and highly intensive management will be necessary," said a department report to the visiting members of the congress.

Fieldmen also advised the committee, headed by Foster Patch of Richland county, that some small game species in the northeastern counties are now being under-harvested, including rabbits, squirrels and ruffed grouse.

Wants Boat Safety Laws Printed on Back Of Fishing Licenses

Boat safety regulations should be printed on the reverse side of all fishing licenses issued by the state conservation department, according to a recommendation to the state conservation commission by the education committee of the Wisconsin conservation congress. Charles Brees of Milwaukee heads the committee.

Boaters Rap Diversion Of Lake, Wolf Water

Claim Practice Threatens Recreational Usefulness of Major Inland Waterways

The excessive diversion of water for agricultural irrigation is threatening the recreational usefulness of some of the state's principal inland waterways, including the Wolf river and Lake Winnebago.

So declares the Outboard Boating club of America, claiming broad support among the boat owners of Wisconsin, in a formal statement filed with a special legislative interim commission studying a redrafting of Wisconsin water use laws.

Boat owners last year complained about the diversion of water from the Wolf river, as far north as New London, said the organization, and found upon inquiry that water was being removed by state permit at the rate of over 23,000,000 gallons a day from the tributaries of Lake Poygan, Lake Butte des Morts and Lake Winnebago.

"This, in addition to an annual average evaporation of from 24 to 30 inches on Lake Winnebago, was enough to lower Lake Winnebago definitely. Boat owners on all of these waters are complaining," said the organization protest.

Such diversion is reducing the fish production and fish carrying capacity of such waters and reducing water levels causes stagnant and sluggish pools of water highly susceptible to contamination or pollution, the statement went on.

Revision of Laws
The club demanded a revision of water laws to guarantee recreational use rights on a level with all other use rights and a central state administrative agency with exclusive enforcement powers.

The study commission will report to the legislature that meets next January. The club reported that Wisconsin now ranks ninth in the nation in the ownership of outboard boat motors, with an estimated 195,000 units in operation. Many thousands more are actually in use as the summer-time tourists and fishermen throng to Wisconsin watering places the commission was reminded.

Statistics Show Heavy Pressure On Trout Streams

The intensity of fishing pressure on popular trout streams, even against the most highly fished lakes, is shown in a statistical produced by C. W. Threinen, of the state fisheries division.

Last year records collected on Lawrence creek in Marquette county, one of the best known trout streams in the state, showed that there were 114 hours of fishing for every surface acre of water.

"This is at least four times the amount on popular lakes," he observed, adding that it also shows the need for proportionately more management effort on the heavily used streams.

'Back Saver' Combines Heat and Massage

No More 'Growing Pains' for Modern Weekend Gardeners

Weekend gardeners can now look forward to relief from those Monday morning aches and pains resulting from strenuous activity with the deep heat, creating a unique spade and shovel.

A Pennsylvania manufacturer has developed a cyclo-massage unit scientifically designed to relieve the weekend gardener's fatigue and aching muscles.

The cyclo-massage unit produced by the Niagara Therapy Manufacturing Corporation of Adamsville, Pa., for the first time combines both heat and massage in a single unit. The unique "back-saver" is distributed locally by Niagara Cyclo Massage company, Valley Fair Shopping Center.

It is a soft pliable foam rubber pad with a built-in cyclo-massage motor and a special heating element. The motor develops a pleasant, soothing massage action which penetrates deep into taut muscles while the heating element develops a penetrating type of combination of heat and massage. This cyclo-massage unit is just the thing to ease gardener's fatigue.

The unit can be used either sitting up or lying down and the user can go on with such daily activities as reading, watching television or writing while using the cyclo-massage unit.

A reostat makes it possible for the user to regulate the massage and heat to the exact degree desired and a timer turns off both the heat and massage at intervals up to one hour. Thus the user can control the unit to fit his exact needs.

Welcome Foxes!

Today is a Red Letter day in the sports history of the Fox Cities. After a 5-year absence, professional baseball is back. Two aspects of this event deserve special comment. One is that we are now in the "big time" — at least a lot bigger time than we have ever been in before. Professional baseball reached its previous peak of success here with Appleton's entry in the old Class D Wisconsin State league which folded in 1953 because the smaller cities in that circuit could not keep up any more. The Green Bay and Appleton clubs were in sound financial shape and ready to go again in 1954, but had no league to play in. Meanwhile it was becoming evident that Green Bay and the Fox Cities were growing much more rapidly than most other cities in Wisconsin, including those that made up the rest of the old state league roster. Actually the demise of that league probably was a good thing for Green Bay and the Fox Cities since it gave them a chance to

How About a Point System for Probation?

Milwaukee authorities have in custody five young men who figured in an attack on two youths who were in a parked car with their girl friends. The youths were beaten and the girls raped. The case is about as morally offensive as can be imagined. Three are charged with unarmed robbery and the other two with robbery and rape. The two charged with rape are David York, 25, and Joseph Simanson, 25, both of Milwaukee. Simanson had accumulated four traffic offenses by June 11, 1951, when he was fined $50 for disorderly conduct. He was sentenced to serve one to two years in the Reformatory for attempted burglary on Sept. 14, 1951 and was turned over to the Department of Public Welfare on Feb. 26, 1953 for violation of parole. But here he was, ready for real trouble in April, 1958. York is pretty well known to the Milwaukee police and courts. Since Nov. 27, 1950 he has put 17 traffic offenses on his record. He was fined $125 on a drunk and disorderly charge in 1951. Later he was fined $50 and received two suspended sentences for disorderly conduct. He was given one year probation for window peeping, six months probation for resisting an officer, and one year probation for contributing to the delinquency of a minor in March, 1952. Probation is a wonderful tool in the hands of a court when it is wisely used. To say that it was used too liberally in the

Wealth at Your Window

Fame and fortune, an unnamed philosopher once said, awaits the man who can perfect a woman's shoe which is larger inside than out. Without attempting to forecast the destiny of cobbler, it appears safe to say man's unending drive to attain the unattainable will one day produce a size four pump which will be size seven on the inside. Wealth untold and fame will follow closely on the heels (pardon the expression) of the discovery. Fortune for those of us who have no soul for the shoe business, however, must be sought in other quarters. Rags to riches stories are numerous—each one an account of the illiterate immigrant washed ashore by the tide of man's inhumanity to man with but a single dollar in his pocket. The story goes on to tell how, with endless suffering and deprivation, he parlayed that single bill into a multi-million dollar fortune. Nowhere in the account, however, will you find mention of the brother who had $30,000 and a generous heart which, no doubt, helped brighten those poverty-stricken hours. This is not to infer that all such accounts lack the ring of authenticity. We mean only to say that fame and fortune, for the large majority, will be found only in a wonderful world created by the mind's eye. Here a man can be as wealthy as he desires. His circle of friends may run to the most influential and great leaders of step out and seek baseball company more suited to the kind of urban communities they have become, albeit it took five years for this to come about. When the leaders of the Three-I league — one of the oldest leagues in the country — decided last year that reorganization was necessary, they looked to these two Fox Valley communities as naturals for this brand of baseball. The other important change that has taken place is the fact that the new team belongs to all the Fox Cities — it's "root, root, root for the home team" from Neenah to Little Chute, from Kaukauna to Menasha and everywhere in between. Rooting for the Foxes will be one more way in which the people of the Fox Cities join together to accomplish something they could not accomplish separately — in this instance fielding a team in Class B baseball. We hope the Foxes win a lot of games, we hope they win the pennant, in fact lots of pennants, but win or lose they're our team and let's all get out and cheer them on.

two Milwaukee cases now that the young men are again in custody charged with a serious offense would be taking advantage of hindsight and also would be assuming that the men are guilty as charged although they have not yet been tried. However, it is such cases which serve to focus public attention on the courts and on the uses of probation. When a motorist is convicted of violating the rules of the road his offense is recorded at the central office of the motor vehicle department and he is charged with the loss of a certain number of points. If he loses 12 points within a year his license to drive is suspended. Is the record of the automobile driver of more importance to the public than a record of what is transpiring in our courts? Since we elect judges by popular vote the public should have some way of judging their work. When a probationer commits a new crime the judge who granted the probation is seldom mentioned. Of course there are scattered records but they are not available to the public. The public and the courts would be greatly helped if a record were compiled which would give a clear idea of how effective a judge had been in his particular field. As it is now we elect and reelect judges because they may appear friendly, pleasant or dignified when we meet them on the street but this is a poor index to their success in serving the public interest in court.

the universe will troop to his door begging for crumbs from his table of wisdom. In the dusky solitude of evening a man, sitting alone at a rain-streaked window, can create a kingdom in which he reigns supreme. Midas-like, but without the curse, his gold supply will double and then triple. The trees in his lawn will bear silver leaves and each blade of grass, diamond-tipped, will glitter in the half-light of emerald flowers. As his wealth increases the man can sit quietly back and assess his rise to power in the business world. Thousands who work for him say he's a tycoon but he likes to think he has not lost touch with the Common Man. He may, if he chooses, look back to the time when he was a dashing gambler, never failing to fill the instle straight or call the correct red or black turn for a tiny pellet as it bounced, drunkenly, on a flashing wheel. This man, sitting quietly by his window, can hit 70 home runs in a single season, pitch half-a-dozen no-bitters, run a 3-minute mile or climb Mt. Everest blindfolded. He can be big or little. Women, if it is his will, swoon when he enters a fashionable cabaret and men turn their heads his way in envy. The world and all that's in it can lay directly at his feet. But the dream must end. And the man returns safely to his own sphere secure in the knowledge that the best way to double his money is to fold it over once and put it back in his pocket. Tourists Sure of Warm Welcome in Most Lands

Prosperous Persons are Very Receptive

BY ELMO C. WILSON
Director, World Poll
All indications point to a repeat of 1957's bumper tourist year. Many countries report an increase in travel. But how do the natives of popular tourist nations regard this apparently ever-increasing invasion of their native lands? The results of a World Poll survey conducted in twelve countries suggests that the tourist may be sure of a fairly warm welcome in most of them. In nearly every country, a majority of the population indicates it likes tourists. Norway and Belgium in particular have strongly favorable feelings. In two countries surveyed there were more than 5 per cent who said they dislike tourists. Even if one adds to these another group which says their dislike "depends on which ones," there are still very few countries around the world in which any dislike of tourists exceeds 10 per cent.

With No Opinion

In each country there is a sizable group (in Japan a majority) who say they have no particular feelings about tourists. They are neither favorable nor unfavorable, perhaps because many of them have little or no contact with foreign visitors. The prosperous in each population are most receptive to foreign tourists. Many of these are owners or directors of businesses, or have some other occupation which makes them likely to profit from tourism. These groups also are more likely to meet tourists socially and to feel that they benefit from the social and cultural exchange. In most countries, there is no increase of ill-feeling among the less well-to-do. Rather, they are more likely to be non-committal in their reactions to tourists. For the most part, city residents are more likely than those who live in rural areas to welcome tourists, but these differences are not large. And in some countries, like Britain and France, this trend is reversed. In Italy, one of the most tourist-favored spots, there are no differences between city and farm dwellers on this issue.

U. S. Tourists Most Popular

When asked, "Which tourists do you consider most desirable?" one-third to two-thirds of the population in each country said they like all nationalities equally well. When favorites are named, they are likely to be tourists from the United States, although there are some exceptions to this rule: The Austrians rate the Germans as more desirable than the Americans; The Dutch are almost as favorable to the Germans

Why They're Liked

When respondents were asked why they consider their favorite tourists the most desirable, the dominant answer in most countries referred to personal characteristics attributed to the preferred national group. These descriptions were likely to include adjectives like well-mannered; decent; attractive; good-humored; friendly; dignified; reserved; energetic; clever; and like us."

A second consideration named by substantial proportions in all countries, and by a majority in Austria and Belgium, was the possibility of financial gain. This became disproportionately important when United States tourists were mentioned. Other reasons for preferring one national tourist group over another relate to shared language or to a wish to promote understanding between the favored tourist group and one's own country. For Eight Months

Civil Rights Commission Stymied

BY JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
Washington — (AP) — Stuck on dead center, paralyzed, the civil rights commission has only 16 months of its 2-year life left. Its performance so far: zero. In short: eight months have passed with no action. There are several reasons for this but the principal one is the slow-down inflicted by the senate judiciary committee. That group is headed by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss.), prime foe of the commission idea in the first place. The 6-man commission itself expects to meet once a month or so. Its work has to be done by its staff director. But before he can operate he must be approved by the committee and then the full senate. The committee hasn't acted on him—although it's had more than two months to do so—and may not for several more weeks. He'll be lucky if he's in business by June 1. Meanwhile, the more the delay, the less work the commission can do. The Story A timetable shows what happened: Last summer after a bitter fight, with southern Democrats in opposition, congress passed the first civil rights legislation in the 26th century. It voted to create the commission which would do several things: Investigate complaints that citizens were being deprived of their voting rights; study laws and practices relating to civil rights in general; hold hearings any place in connection with its work; and make recommendations to congress. The commission's 2-year life started from the moment President Eisenhower signed the legislation into law Sept. 9. First Eisenhower had to find people to

Steamer Docks Here

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of May 3, 1879.

The steamer "Brooklyn," formerly of Oshkosh, now belongs to Appleton. The compliment was suggested by the fact that this city furnishes more business for the river craft than any of her sister cities. In anticipating a large passenger list this coming summer, the "Brooklyn" has been provided with a cabin extending her entire length. This includes main salon, clerk's and captain's offices, wash rooms, dining hall and every other convenience pertaining to a first class boat. The Brooklyn is 138 feet on the keel with a beam measurement of 27 feet. The upper deck is 99 feet long with a cabin 75 feet long and 20 feet wide. The cabin is being fitted up elegantly on the elaborate plan of the Mississippi passenger packets. On the lower deck is an uninterrupted space 27 feet by 75 feet upon which a moveable false floor is placed when the boat is used for excursions, upon which fully 60 couples can dance. The "Brooklyn" made her first trip down Tuesday with a load of freight. She brought the Oshkosh Pinare troupe down on Friday night. For two days of the week she can be secured for excursion parties by applying to her enterprising owners or at the steamboat dock.

8-Year-Old Submits Design for New Tank

Waukesha, Wis. — (AP) — Richard Herling, who had submitted a new army tank design to military officials, received a reply from Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, commanding officer of Ft. Benning, Ga. "Such interest in our army is most gratifying to those of us who have the job of preparing and executing plans for our national defense," the letter said in part. Richard was pleased at response, especially since he's only 8 years old.

Part of School Levy Held From City by Town

Awaits Circuit Court Decision on Appeal of District 1 Attachment

The finance committee has been formally notified by City Clerk Elden J. Broehm that the town of Grand Chute is withholding all taxes levied by the city against former non-operating School District 1.

Broehm said Town Chairman Arthur Lecker in a March letter said the money would be withheld until the circuit court decides on an appeal by the city from county school committees' order attaching the former district to the city school system.

City Atty. Don L. Jury has told him, Broehm said, that a decision is expected shortly. The city opposes the attachment and has questioned its legality.

District Paid

The council last November, on Jury's advice, levied $12,672.41 against former District 1 and $16,395 against that part of former non-operating District 10 which was attached about the same time last fall without legal opposition.

Payment of the District 10 1958-'59 will be elected at an tax share has been received, Appleton Optimist club meeting Broehm reported. Land Owners Object to 41 Proposed Site

Protest 3/4-Mile From Present Road; Back JJ Route, 2 Miles Out
Property owners along the route proposed for relocation of Highway 41 between Highway 10 and Kaukauna have decided to meet with the state highway commission to protest the route. Most of the property owners object to the location 1/4-mile north of the present route. About two-thirds of them prefer a location along the route now taken by County Trunk JJ, about two miles north of 41. The relocation is for about 11 miles beginning just north of Highway 10 and extending to near McCarty's corners. Plans call for 4-laning 41 for the entire stretch, with traffic interchanges with roads on which cross traffic justifies structures.

Not Definite
However, state highway commissioners have made it clear the highway is in the planning stage and nothing is irrevocably set so far — either route or construction. Towns, villages, cities and the Outagamie county highway committee have indicated approval of the 1/4-mile relocation site. The opposition has developed from persons living along the proposed route. At their meeting, 55 property owners studied the proposed relocation with an eye to determining a better one for what they called the best interests of the community — the property owners were from the towns of Vandenberg, Grand Chute and Kaukauna.

Farm Bureau Expert
Dale Thompson, a highway expert from the Wisconsin Farm Bureau, told the property owners that setting a relocation site a greater distance from the present 41 roadway eases the right-of-way and easement difficulties. He suggested formation of a committee for conferences.

A committee was named to represent the three towns in meetings with the highway commission. Members are Ernest Paltzer, Robert Behle and Bert Weyenberg, town of Grand Chute; John Coenen and Henry Van Groll, town of Vandenberg; and Eugene Lambie and William Van Epern, town of Kaukauna. Thompson also told the group there are additional problems in commuter traffic use arising from locating the proposed road too far from the present 41.

Commuter Road
The state highway commission has emphasized that road studies elsewhere have shown that if a commuter road is moved too far from destinations in an effort to gain super-highway or expressway characteristics, commuter traffic simply refuses to use the road.

Highway 41's greatest congestion in the Fox Cities' area, commissioners say, comes from the commuter traffic generated by the cities, not from through traffic. The highway commission is studying the record of the public hearing and has not decided on a definite location for Highway 41. At the public hearing, many of the same property owners in the three towns objected to the relocation site on grounds it would cut too many farms in half. Some at that time suggested a location half a mile from the present highway.

The POWER of FAITH

Strong Athletics Have Found added power in faith: Gene Tunney, Babe Didrikson Zaharias, Otto Graham, Alice Marble, Bob Mathias. . . Locker rooms often echo quietly to individual and group prayers.

As a former sports artist, I've seen boxers, basketballers and gridders bless themselves, and, during a dramatic moment of a professional football game, watched a star turn away for victory, but ask that they play their best, that no one be injured, that teammates not suffer for their mistakes, and that they be in stride with God's way. Black-Eyed Susan Vine

Indoor Gardening

Black-Eyed Susan Vine Has Gay Flowers, Pretty Leaves

BY KATHERINE B. WALKER
Although its blossom is wholly unlike the wildflower from which it took its common name, Black-eyed Susan vine is one of the cheeriest looking plants I have ever seen.

The flowers are long-tubed, opening abruptly into flat-faced petals in the manner of phlox, but black-eyed Susan bears its blossoms singly instead of in clusters. Heart-shaped leaves on wide petioles and oddly pointed buds and seed-pods make this vine even more attractive. In the variety Thunbergia alata var. aurantiaca, flowers are a deep yellow-orange with purple-black centers; other varieties may have flowers in white or buff.

Thunbergias bloom mostly in late summer and autumn when started from seed in spring, requiring about three months from seed-sowing to blossom-time. You can start seeds now, keeping the vines in pots throughout the summer (either indoors or out) and move them to a sunny window for flowers well into fall. Or if you want winter flowers, start seeds in September and have flowers for New Year's.

Fairly Heavy Feeders
Soil should be half loam and half sand and humus for Thunbergias. They are fairly heavy feeders, and respond well to supplemental feeding after they are established in the ultimate pot size. I prefer to grow one vine in a tall, 4-inch pot but several vines may be grown together if desired. If you have more than one to a pot, however, the plants may need daily watering.

This vine is usually grown as an annual, but it is actually a perennial and easily started from seed, cuttings, or layers. You probably won't find it in your local greenhouse because a flat of small plants grows all over itself and becomes such a tangled mess in a short time, and most growers don't want to bother with it. But we

Cromwellian Era Background Of Norah Loft's New Novel

By Jean Wiley Thickens
("Scent of Cloves," by Nora Lofts; Doubleday company publishers, $3.95.)

A period in British history that has been more or less overlooked by contemporary novelists is brought to attention most graphically by author Norah Lofts in her latest book "Scent of Cloves." This is the Cromwellian era which extended from 1649 to 1660 when Oliver Cromwell was titular head of the British people after the beheading of Bonnie Prince Charlie.

Authoress Lofts was born in Norfolk, England, in 1904 and attended Norwich college. She decided at an early age to devote herself to literature and as a result, she can claim the authorship of 15 novels and a string of "who-dunnits" under the pen name of Peter Curtis. "Scent of Cloves" opens in the year 1657 in a small rural community of southern Ireland where Cromwell's Puritan soldiers had been particularly brutal in dealing with the Irish peasantry as well as the titled upper classes. All were devout Roman Catholics while Cromwell was a belligerent Protestant. Europe in those days was a battle ground of religious hatreds and antagonisms. The innocent suffered with the guilty and the British Isles was a most unhappy place in which to live.

Centers on Girl
The plot of this delightful and intensely exciting tale revolves around the person of Julia Ashley, daughter of a wealthy and titled gentleman and his lovely wife, the Lady Lucy. They lived in an ancient castle surrounded by a deep moat on the short of one of Ireland's most beautiful lakes.

When a company of Cromwell's soldiers were about to invade the village with an eye to murder and pillage, the villagers rushed to the castle to implore its owner for asylum. Already short of food and realizing the danger to his family and servants, he had another idea. He had his daughter's old nurse, take the child and accompanied by the villagers. They escaped through a secret forest path to another hamlet.

Here the nurse died several months later. Then Julia's career was a succession of calamities which finally landed her in a miserable Dutch orphanage in Amsterdam, Holland.

Cost of Living Is Down Again at All Seven Quaker Dairy Stores

Grade A Pasteurized or Homogenized Whole MILK 1/2 Gal. DOWN TO 34¢

From time to time it is our pleasure to have conducted tours through our plant for various groups and organizations. Recently a group of children from Morgan School visited us and sent the following story which the class composed together regarding their tour. A letter written by DAVID FISKE, enclosed with the story, thanked Quaker Dairy...

Our Trip to the Quaker Dairy!

We walked over to the Quaker Dairy. Mr. Cherkasky took us to see the cheese factory first. We saw a big vat of milk. There was also a floating thermometer in the milk. The milk had to be kept at 88 degrees. They were going to add rennet to the milk to make the cheese. They would take the milk to make the cheese. They make the cheese every day.

We saw milk cans with numbers. The cans of milk are weighed. Each farmer has his own number. They pasteurize the milk. We saw them bottling milk. We saw them making ice cream. After it is made, it is put into the freezer at -10 degrees for the night. He gave us some. It was very good.

City to Take Bids on River Crossing June 2

Feeder Water Main Expected to Cost More Than $60,000

The water commission will take bids June 2 for installation of a 12-inch feeder main across and under the Fox river.

Preliminary estimates by the commission's planners, Alvord, Burdick and Howsen, Chicago, indicate the construction will cost in excess of $60,000.

Plans for the project are being shipped to the commission from the Chicago firm and should be available at the commission office, 125 N. Walnut street, within a few days.

The main will extend from N.

Leminwah street and E. Opchee street to E. Newberry street and S. Walter avenue. It will be slightly east of the proposed College-to-Candee high level bridge and will pass through Telulah park.

Accept Easement
Commissioners in setting the call date, accepted an easement for the river crossing from Green Bay and Mississippi Canal company and Consolidated Water Power and Paper company. Federal approval already has been received.

Whether an easement will be needed from the park board is unknown. Commissioners decided to ask City Atty. Don L. Jury for an opinion.

The new feeder main is expected to take care of southeast side water needs for years to come, commissioners have said.

A financial report for the first quarter of this year, handed commissioners by Sec. Arthur Dimick, shows a $6,316.78 loss, compared to $5,716.82 profit in the same period a year ago.

Rockets Record 135½ Points To Defeat Kaukauna, Indians

Neenah Cops 13 Events; Three Athletes Capture Two Firsts

Neenah — Registering wins in 13 of the 14 events, Neenah rolled up 135½ points to outdistance Kaukauna and Shawano here Friday afternoon. The Rockets were second with 42½ points and Shawano finished third with 34.

In addition to the numerous firsts, the Red and White picked up the first three places in three events. The victory was their fourth straight of the spring. It rained throughout most of the meet and the festivities concluded in a downpour.

The meet produced three double winners, Fred Seggelink, Jerry Hensen and Ralph Syring. Seggelink won the high jump and pole vault, Hensen the 100 and broad jump and Syring the two weights. Ed DenDooven, the Rockets' No. 1 dashman, was held out of action because of a pulled leg muscle.

Prize Co's 220

The lone non-Rocket first placer was Kaukauna's Dennis Priebe, a freshman, who won the 220 yard dash in 24.9. Team mate Bill Campbell got a second.

Hensen won the 100 yard dash in 11:35 with Priebe second and the Rockets' Jim Miller third. The former had a jump of 18 feet, 4 inches to spear honors in the broad jump. Seggelink was second with a leap of 17 feet 3 inches.

Hensen was second in the two events which were won by Seggelink. The latter copped the high jump in 5 feet, 5 inches and the pole vault at 10 feet, 3 inches. Both Seggelink and Hensen cleared the same height but the former got the win because he had fewer misses.

Quade Wins Mile

Syring had a pitch of 44 feet, 10 inches to win the shot put. John Dixon was second and freshman Mowery Stimp claimed third. In the discus, Syring's winning toss was 123 feet, 11 inches. Shawano's Sauer placed second and "Bud" Tollefson gave the Rockets a third.

Jim Quade again won the

Macs to Launch '58 Card With Practice Game

Test Reedsville; Roster Includes Several New Faces

Menasha — The Menasha Macs, who in recent years have been one of the top amateur baseball powers in the state, will launch another schedule Sunday afternoon when they take on Reedsville in straightaway. Game time will be 2 o'clock in the unfavorable conditions at the Menasha ball park. The Fox River Valley league season will open here a week from the lows with an easy win in Sunday with Manitowoc projected. Shawano's Jesse was viding the opposition.

The Menasha lineup will have several new faces while other fine race, Anderson, running anchor, finished strong to give the Rockets the win. The time was 1:40.6.

A fine anchor run by half-fielder, Miller, another sophomore, gave the Rockets first in the half mile. Neenah trailed by about 10 yards when Lintner took over but he overtook the Kaukauna runner with about 300 yards left to go and second basemen from Appleton; Tom Konetzke, of last year's Menasha High school team; Dick Frank, who played with the Falcons before entering service, and Jim Kersten, who played with Harrison last year.

Returnees include Ron Dibelius, who played several games early and late last season and spent the summer playing semi-pro ball in Texas; Ron Gall, "Bud" Koehnke, Clem Massey, Jack Konetzke, Bernie Konetzke, Jim Heack and Darold Eggert.

College Stars
Other players will join the squad after the various high school and college seasons are completed. They include Ken Konetzke and Jerry Koslowski of Menasha High; Mort Drury, Wyoming pitcher; Vic Stenson, Miami hurler and Evan Wiemann, Whitewater outfielder.

Reedsville always has had a powerful hitting attack. Unsteady pitching has been its biggest shortcoming. Its sluggers include Bob and Joe Diny, "Buck" and Don Edinger and "Red" Behnke.

Split Two Games
Last year the Macs took a 13-12 trimming at Reedsville when several players were injured. The Menashians reversed the decision in the second round with a 12-7 triumph.

Dibelius or Koehnke is expected to start against the Manitowoc county nine.

Edward "Butch" Konetzke is beginning his third term as Mac manager. Two years ago the Macs were stripped of the league title they won the three preceding seasons but placed third in the state tournament at Milwaukee while last year they copped the undisputed league crown.

The contest was rescheduled for 3 o'clock this afternoon, weather permitting.

Two Rivers' Don Krummel raced a brilliant 10.15 in the 100 yard dash, the fastest mark for a Mid-Eastern conference runner in recent years except for those by Menasha's Tom Hyde. Krummel added another five points with a first in the 220 in 23.4.

Menasha's Jerry Sobieszczyk was second and Tom Stepanski third in the 100 and the former placed third and the latter fourth in the 220.

"Rocky" Jersild gave Menasha 11 points with seconds to Jansen in both hurdles and a third in the high jump. He cleared 5 feet, 7 inches in the high jump before bowing out.

The Raiders' Bill Wolfe won the 440 in 55.3 with Kimberly's Bill Seegers second and Larry Frederick of the Jays third. 2:17.01.

Collect Miniature Leaves as They Unfold From Tree Buds

BY CAPPY DICK
Today's hobby project can be worked only in springtime. It's the hobby of collecting miniature leaves soon after they have unfolded from buds.

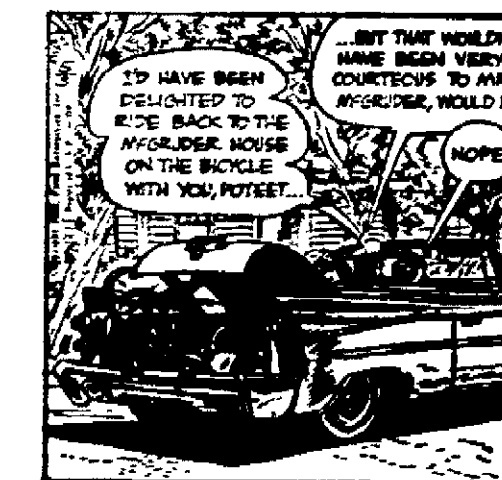

book at the library to identify the leaf.
Press the leaves between sheets of paper with a weight on top. When they are flat and dry, glue them neatly to a cardboard, (Figures 1, 2 and 3), write the name of each leaf and where you found it, then cover the cardboard with cellophane to make a shiny display.

spread over a period of several weeks. However, get as many different specimens as possible. Remember that the main divisions of trees are subdivided into various species and each of these may have sub-species. So a collection of leaves could run into many hundreds of different kinds.

For example, there are at least 200 species of oak in the United States. In turn oaks are just one branch of the oen family of trees which includes chestnut trees, tanbark oaks and the regular oaks.

Nearly all oaks can be grouped into the white oaks which produce leaves with round lobes and usually lack saw teeth and the black oaks that have leaves with sharply cut lobes and very pointed teeth.

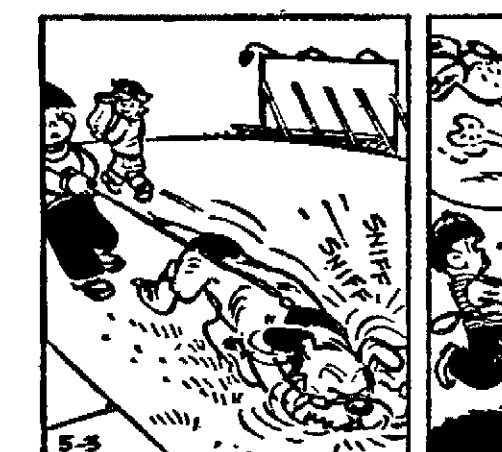

As you collect the little leaves, note where you found them and also observe the general shape of the tree and the color of its bark. Look in a tree

Average Hourly Earnings Stable

Weekly Pay Figures Show Dip Because of Fewer Work Hours

Madison — Average hourly earnings in Wisconsin manufacturing industry remain stable and are above those of a year ago, in spite of some declines in employment in the heavy manufacturing centers.

The monthly labor market survey of the state industrial commission estimated March average hourly earnings in ly higher than the previous month, and only a little below the $86.64 figure reached a year ago.

For the state as a whole, manufacturing employment stood at 300,200, or about 10 per cent below the high figure of the previous year.

Highest average hourly earnings continued to be shown for the Milwaukee - Waukesha area with $2.37, Madison and Kenosha with $2.36, Racine with $2.31 and LaCrosse with $2.25.

The Green Bay average was put at $2.03 and Oshkosh at $1.94, in the selected studies of the state agency.

Employment in Paper Holds Up

Madison — Employment in the Wisconsin paper and allied product industries is holding up well at a time when there are declines in numbers of workers in the state's manufacturing industry as a whole, the state industrial commission reports.

The commission's March labor market inventory shows 29,400 persons employed in paper and allied products lines, or about .8 per cent below the level of a year earlier. Pulp, paper and paper board mills increased their employment by 8 per cent, but there were small declines in other lines.

Wisconsin industry at $2.16, which was equal to the figure of the previous month, and 5 cents above the level attained one year earlier.

Average weekly earnings have shown a tendency to decline, although only moderately, and evidently as a result of a shorter average work week. The latter, in turn, reflects the reduction of overtime employment in many factories.

The March weekly average was estimated at $85.88, slightly higher than the previous month, and only a little below the $86.64 figure reached a year ago.

For the state as a whole, manufacturing employment stood at 300,200, or about 10 per cent below the high figure of the previous year.

When she stopped, she said, the youths got out and "roughed up" her car. Later she stopped for a stop sign, the youths' car came up behind her and kept butting her car, she told police.

Notes and Notions

by John L. Paustian

Baseball, anyone? After a long absence, professional baseball returns as an important course on the Fox Cities entertainment menu. Fans, who have had five years to work up an appetite for this popular pastime, have a chance to end their "fast" at 8 o'clock tonight with a helping of dessert—the game between their shiny new Foxes and the strong Milwaukee Braves' farm club out of Cedar Rapids. Wouldn't it be fitting to celebrate organized baseball's return by cornering the 3-I league's opening-game attendance championship?

The figure to beat right now is 3,769—the turnout at the Cedar Rapids opener last Sunday. Other inaugurals have drawn these totals: Davenport, 1,713; and Burlington, 1,244; and Rochester 1,121. Club President Ray McCrone says the Foxes—with the addition of some 1,800 seats from Lawrence college—can seat 5,300 persons comfortably. There's lots of room, so why not come out to see what Class B ball has to offer.

The first "play ball" will be music to the ears of many fans, but just how many times they'll return for additional refrains will depend in large measure on the kind of product that's offered. In other words, the "selling"—or at least the major share of it—of the Fox Cities baseball club by the dedicated group of organizers is over. The next move is up to the "buyer"—the fan.

Just how many "buyers" will go for the product is still largely a mystery. It's true that a sampling of opinion has indicated strong interest. It's also true that the directors and volunteer stock and ticket sellers have given baseball a strong push. And, it's true that a vocal minority—the "old guard" of fandom that never wanted to see pro ball leave in '53—is excited about it. But, in terms of numbers, these are not enough to make this thing a "going" proposition. It will take the Fox Cities sports public at large to put it over.

Attendance Count to be Watched Closely

The only reliable measure of public's reaction will be the turnstiles count for the 65-game home season. This same yardstick will be watched closely throughout the state and to a lesser extent throughout minor league baseball. Certainly, the eyes of all the former state league colleagues of Appleton and Green Bay will be on the Foxes' and Bluejays' operations. Success conceivably could lead to a further expansion of the 3-I league into Wisconsin. This season might also prove the supreme test of whether a good grade of minor league ball can exist alongside the Braves in Wisconsin.

Though no one knows if Class B ball will win the fans' hearts, advance signs certainly look promising. Fans will no longer have to drive better than 100 miles to see a good brand of pro ball. Of course, no one will argue that major league ball is the ultimate—that fans can give themselves a special treat with occasional visits to the home of the world champion Braves. But, for day-in, day-out entertainment, pro baseball is back in our own backyard—and better than ever Class B players are hustling to make good at what is generally considered the "make or break" point in a baseball career. And every one of them has shown definite ability to be this far along the road. A number of those who will be playing here in '58 are only 1-3 years from the majors.

Undeniably, minor league ball has had a rocky road—the number of teams and leagues has shrunk almost 50 per cent in 10 years. But, it seems a reasonably safe supposition that the bottom either has been or soon will be reached. Until a better way to develop ball players comes along, farm systems are a must. And, minors will probably be consolidated at the level the majors really feel they need in order to handle their better prospects. Class B leagues, for example, are down from 11 a decade ago to three today. And, they are ideally situated, geographically. The Carolina league is on the East coast, the Northwest league is on the Pacific coast, and the 3-I is in the middle. The majors can hardly afford to let this vital development stage dwindle further.

Do we want to remain a member of this small but select baseball company? You, the fans, make up the jury. You're ready to begin working on the verdict.

Giants Attendance No Serious Threats Passes 200,000 To Leaders in ABC

San Francisco, N. Y. — The San Francisco baseball Giants passed 200,000 in home attendance Friday night in just half as many games as it took them to do it in New York last season.

The 13,426 fans who attended the game with Philadelphia brought the Giants' attendance to 203,629 in 13 games in their new city. They have averaged 15,663.

Pirates Blow 5-0 Lead, Dodgers Win

Podres Captures Fourth Win, 9-5; Giants Top Phils, Regain 2nd

BY ED WILKS

The Pittsburgh Pirates finally ran out of pitchers, and their winning streak, which ran to six and carried them to second place in the National league, has sputtered out.

After rolling along behind Bob Friend, Ron Kline, Vern Law and some surprise relief, Manager Danny Murtaugh had to turn to his rookies last night and they blew a 5-0 lead while losing to the Los Angeles Dodgers, 9-5.

Johnny Podres of the Dodgers became the first to win four in the majors this season, with Clem Labine hurling a hit relief after the stocky southpaw gave way with arm trouble in the sixth.

The loss plunked the Pirates to fourth, 14 games behind, while San Francisco regained second with a 4-2 victory over Philadelphia. The Chicago Cubs clung to a half-game lead by overhauling a 7-0 Milwaukee bulge and blasted the Braves, 8-7. George Crowe drove in six runs for Cincinnati in a comeback 7-3 victory at St. Louis.

Rookie right-handers Ben Daniels, George Perez, Curt Raydon and Ron Blackburn of the Pirates took turns getting battered by the Dodgers, who had lost three straight to the Bucs. Perez was the loser, coming on a 6-run fourth. Don Zimmer had three hits, drove in three runs and stole home for the Dodgers.

Grissom Relieves Veteran Marv Grissom saved 19-year-old Mike McCormick's first victory of the year for the Giants, fanning pinch-hitter Bob Bowman and Richie Ashburn and getting Rip Repulski on an infield pop with two on in the ninth. Rookie Bob Schmidt's third home run counted the clincher in the sixth off Jack ready on his way to Havana by plane before the outbreak. On April 9, in Havana, Tano was in the process of getting a visa for his trip to the U. S. when gunfire erupted on the streets. He took shelter in the Pan-American office and again was unscathed.

Rumors had Tano getting shot, and when he was unable to clear Havana to report to the Florida training camp in time, the rumors took on greater credence. He finally arrived in camp a week late but worked hard to catch up.

Thus far, Manager Pete Suder has used the utility player only at shortstop, which Tano says is one of his two favorite positions. The other is third base.

The 6-0, 175-pound Tano, started his pro career with Sanford, who lost his third. Repulski drove in both Phil runs with a single and home.

Crowe's 2-run single brought the Redlegs from behind in the seventh against winless Sam Jones (0-3) and he followed with a 3-run homer in the ninth. Hal Jeffcoat saved Brooks Lawrence's first victory, getting ex-Redleg Curtis Flood (just recalled from Omaha where he hit .350) to hit into a bases-loaded double-play that ended the game.

Revolution-Harassed Tano Is 'Handy Andy'

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN

Bob Tano proved as adept at staying out of harm's way in the most recent of Cuba's revolutions as he is in answering his manager's call for help at any position.

If the Foxes' "handy Andy" hasn't set a record, he certainly has tied one. Tano has played every position in his three years in organized baseball.

In order to make his services available to the Foxes this season, the 22-year-old Tano had to sidestep revolution bullets in Havana early last month.

Leaves By Plane Cuban rebels began their attack in Tano's home town of Camaguey, but Bob was allowed to leave.

Tenth or Series

Crestview in the Alabama-Florida D league in 1956. As a pitcher, he won five of seven decisions. He also played some outfield. Late in the season he was sent to Fort Walton Beach.

Last year with the same Fort Walton Beach club, Tano pitched and won the opening game of the season. But the club was hurt for outfielders, so Tano went to the garden and played 104 games there. He batted .254 and hit six homers.

Tano, who is right-handed all the way, also serves as interpreter for several of his Cuban teammates who aren't quite as accomplished—linguistically as he. There are two brothers and one sister in Bob's family. One of the brothers lives in Lexington, N. C.

Foxes Begin Home Season Against Cedar Rapids Nine

If Weather Halts Play Tonight Opening Program Will be Postponed to Sunday Evening

The last home pro baseball team (1953) to play in Goodland field was a Milwaukee Braves farm club.

Now, as baseball returns here, the Braves are again supplying players for one of the teams—but this time it's the visiting nine, Cedar Rapids.

The Raiders, stocked with a nucleus of players who helped Evansville win the Three-I league pennant last year, are season or book tickets or opening-night booster buttons in advance. The buttons serve as tonight's admission.

Gala pre-game ceremonies, marking the home debut of a new club and the beginning of a joint athletic venture by the Fox Cities, will get under way at 7:40. The Appleton city band will play a concert before then, providing a musical background for patrons as they arrive.

Rain Postpones Foxes' Game With Burlington

Burlington, Ia.—Fox Cities Foxes Manager Pete Suder said here Friday night that he would start Ted Sadowsky in the club's home opener against Cedar Rapids Saturday.

The Foxes' Friday night game with Burlington was halted by rain after 1½ innings. There was no score at that time. Sadowsky was the winning pitcher in the Foxes' season-opening victory.

rated a prime title contender in the 1958 race.

The Raiders will battle the Fox Cities Foxes—an affiliate of the Washington Senators—at 8 o'clock tonight in Goodland field, if weather conditions permit.

Tickets Available Fox Cities club officials anticipate a large crowd, but tickets will be available at the gate for those who didn't buy either

If rain should make a postponement necessary tonight, the same inaugural program will be held Sunday night. Foxes officials said this morning that if sun, expected later in the day, dries up the wet field sufficiently the game definitely will be played tonight.

The Foxes planned to leave Burlington, Iowa, right after Friday night's game for a station wagon trip home. The trip—longest league haul for the Foxes—covers about 340 miles.

Foxes Manager Pete Suder plans to start Ted Sadowsky on the mound tonight.

Cedar Rapids will be participating in its third opener in a week. Last Sunday, it played host to Rochester in a league opener (and the Raiders lost). Last Wednesday Cedar Rapids helped Rochester begin its home season (and the Raiders lost).

Among the big guns boasted by the visiting Raiders are Horace Garner, twice-in-a-row Three-I league batting champ; to Sid Goldfader, touted as one of the best catchers in Class B ball; and Alfred "Allie" Raynolds, speedy 3-B outfielder.

Green Bay Falls To Davenport However, 6 to 1

By the Associated Press

Green Bay's Frank Howard continued his display of power hitting Friday night to feature Three-I league action curtailed by rain.

Howard, the 6-foot, 6-inch husky who used to shoot baskets for Ohio State's basketball team, smashed his third homer in three nights, but it was only a dying gesture as Davenport defeated Green Bay, 6-1.

Rain washed out the Fox Cities at Burlington and Cedar Rapids at Rochester game.

Gains Second Davenport, which edged into second place, used a homer by Felix Guzman during a 3-run fifth inning to back the pitching of Bill Rouse.

Rouse was working on a 4-hitter after eight innings, but weakened in the ninth. He allowed Howard's 400-foot wallop, which was followed by two singles.

Green Bay goes to Burlington tonight while Davenport moves to Rochester and Fox Cities plays host to Cedar Rapids.

Surprising Bruins Hand Milwaukee 3rd Straight Loss

Moryn's Homes Wins Game, 8-7; Cubs Score 6 in One Inning

Chicago, P.—Full of springtime pep, the Chicago Cubs humbled the Milwaukee Braves, 8-7, Friday by splurging for six runs in one inning to tie the score and deciding the contest on Walt Moryn's ninth inning homer, his second of the game.

The defeat, third straight for the Braves, dropped the defending world champions into the second division where they hold down fifth place, two games behind the first place Cubs.

The Braves looked like they were on the way back up to the top of the pile for 6½ innings, but then they fell apart in the seventh as the homer-happy Cubs produced six runs, three of them on Jim Bolger's pinch-hit homer.

Wes Returns The only good news for Milwaukee was the return to the lineup of left fielder Wes Covington who cracked a 2-run homer in his first appearance of the season. He's been out of action with a knee injury suffered April 8.

The pitching victory, his third, went to Don Elston who tossed a scoreless ninth at the Braves. Former Cub Dick Littlefield, making his first trip to the mound for Milwaukee, was charged with the loss, his first against no victories. Elson and Littlefield were the fourth pitchers used by each team.

The Braves started gathering runs in the first inning as "Red" Schoendienst opened the game with a double off Chicago starter Dick Drott. After an out Schoendienst scored on Ed Mathews' single.

Faces 6 Batters Drott faced only six batters in the next two innings, but after one was out in the fourth, Mathews singled and Hank Aaron doubled. Mathews went home on Frank Torre's sacrifice fly and then Covington cleared the bases with his homer.

The Braves added two runs in the fifth when a single and a pair of walks filled the bases. A sacrifice fly by Mathews gave Gene Conley and Aaron a 2-run homer.

Drott disappeared after the fifth and was replaced by Ed Sunny Blum. Farm's Lincoln Moyer who allowed Milwaukee's final run. Mel Roach batted for Covington and singled. A Dragon Killer, Mrs. A. Canthe sixth when Moryn got his first homer. But the Cubs waited only one more inning to pull the rug out from under the big right-hander.

Beats Out Hit

After one was away in the seventh Bobby Thomson beat out an infield hit and Sammy Taylor added a single. Along came Bolger, swinging for Mayer, and clouted his homer. After Tony Taylor singled, Ernie Johnson replaced Conley.

Walls greeted Johnson by beating out a bunt, and then

Cloudy Skies Greet Derby

Louisville, Ky. —P— Mostly cloudy skies covered Louisville early today and the weather bureau said there was a strong possibility the eighty-fourth Kentucky derby will be marred by showers.

Bolt Takes Over Colonial Lead

36-Hole Score of 138 Gives Tommy 2-Stroke Lead

Fort Worth, Tex. —P— Tommy Bolt, called "Thunder" and "Tempestuous Tommy" because of his club throwing along the golf trail, gave the fans a picture of the "new Tommy" Friday when he took over the lead in the $25,000 Colonial National invitation tournament.

The 38-year-old Bolt waded over the water-logged 7,021-yard Colonial Country club course in par 70—a round which he didn't think was very good—and said, "I had no urge to break a club."

His 138 for 36 holes gave him a 2-stroke lead as the curtailed field started out today in the second round.

Two Withdraw

The rain and mud and water caused two players—Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., and Bob Rosburg of Napa, Calif.—to withdraw and there were only two sub-par rounds as most of the players said they thought the round should have been called off.

Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., the Masters champion, who recently fought to a who tied the course record with a 5-under-par 65 in the opening round, soared to a 77.

As Palmer faded down to 142 and a tie for fifth place, Stan Leonard, the 43-year-old balding veteran from Vancouver, Canada, fashioned a 72 and moved into undisputed second place at 140.

Tied for third at 141 were Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and Lloyd Mangrum of Apple Valley, Calif., who shot 69 and 73 respectively.

Perez Named Top Fighter For April

Machen, Folley Co-Ranked as No. 1 'Heavy' Challenger

New York —P— For the first time since Ring magazine has been issuing monthly boxing ratings, two men are co-ranked as No. 1 challenger in the heavyweight division. They are Ed Machen of Redlands, Calif., and Zora Folley of Chandler, Pa., the Masters champion, who recently fought to a draw.

Editor Nat Fleischer reasoned that Machen lost his slight edge on Folley by not doing better than a draw while Folley had pushed his stock on a par with Machen.

Roy Harris, the contender from Cut and Shoot, Tex., who has been mentioned as a possible title opponent for heavy-weight champion Floyd Patterson, was listed fifth. In addition to the first two, Willie Pasternak of New Orleans and light heavyweight champ Archie Moore of San Diego, Calif., were listed ahead of Harris.

Pascual Perez, the world flyweight king was honored as "fighter of the month" for successfully defending his crown against Ramon Arias of Venezuela before a large crowd at Caracas.

You're the Skipper Steering Done Outside On Express Cruiser

BY JOHN BOHANNAN

A significant trend in motorboat design in recent years has been the increased popularity of the express cruiser. Characterized by its out-in-the open steering position, it is found in all sizes today—from 16-foot outboards to 60-foot yachts.

The newcomer to boating may wonder why a man would not prefer a more comfortable position for the controls, inside a cabin and out of the weather.

Let me explain by telling of the experience of a skipper who bought a 33-foot inboard cruiser with conventional deckhouse steering position.

Seemed Very Stuffy

The first summer he used the boat happened to be one of these hot seasons, plagued by a multitude of calms. Even with all windows, doors, hatches and ports open, the deckhouse seemed oppressively stuffy.

Both the skipper and his wife enjoyed parties. When the heat drove all hands to the aft deck for fresh air, the skipper found himself alone in the deckhouse, steering for hours at a time without any chance of joining the merry throng outside.

Only for occasional tricks at the wheel could others be lured to serve as substitute helmsmen with the thermometer at 98 in the shade.

After a few weeks of the deckhouse steam—bath treatment, the skipper sold the boat and got a new one with a flying bridge, which gives the man at the wheel a chance to mingle with the happy crew.

Better Visibility

From a practical standpoint, an outside steering position offers better visibility. When the going gets rough, it's much smarter to sacrifice personal comfort for safety. And it's much better to wear your sou'wester hat and oilskins out in the wind and rain where you can see all around you than to cooped up in a deckhouse where you get only an occasional glimpse dead ahead as the windshield wiper tries to keep up with the spray from the bow.

A good compromise is to install a folding Navy top of white canvas. It will give you good protection from the sun. When a storm begins to make up, you can lower the top to give you unhampered vision—or leave it up in rainy weather with moderate winds.

The so-called "hard tops" offer permanent deck shelters, more durable and less likely to leak.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(1) Is there any way to prevent a dual steering position on top of the deckhouse for ordinary cruising, disregarding deep sea fishing?

Yes. It just takes the advantages of a flying bridge plus added visibility from height above the water. There's one disadvantage. On some craft the effect of wind is accentuated because the steering position is so far above center of the hull.

(2) What is the origin of the term "express cruiser"?

In the early twenties, the advent of more powerful marine engines and planning hulls brought about the design of fast cruisers for "commuting" purposes. At that time the express boat was one of the fastest things on water. It was a 35-foot express cruiser named "The Commodore" built for a wealthy New York City banker. Rogan Opposes Welfare Fund Control Bill

Says Senate Version Preempts Measure Passed by State

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—Legislation to provide national government inspection and regulation of labor union welfare funds, recently passed by the United States senate without opposition, will be opposed before the U. S. house of representatives.

The Wisconsin state insurance department says it will object to the legislation unless it is amended to repeal a provision that threatens the rights of the states to function in the same field.

Paul Rogan, commissioner of insurance for the state, says that the bill as now written proposes to preempt welfare fund regulation—in spite of the fact that Wisconsin and half a dozen other states have already pioneered by adopting state control laws at their own initiative.

Adopted Year Ago

The Wisconsin fund registration and supervision law was adopted a year ago, and Rogan is now completing the administrative arrangements.

Nearly 1,400 of such funds have thus far registered under its terms.

As Rogan sees it, the senate-approved bill is objectionable because it would remove from state jurisdiction those considerable numbers of union and employer benefit funds that are interstate in character.

Rogan believes the subject is one in which the states should act and thus remove the need for federal legislation, but if the national government insists on entering the field, he says it should not disturb the rights of the states in administering prior state laws.

Under the federal law as suggested, the state would have the responsibility for overseeing the welfare funds of small local labor organizations or employers, but it would have no right or responsibility for those of General Motors or others involving operations in a number of states.

He said he intends to go to Washington to consult with congressmen when the house labor committee holds hearings on the senate-approved regulation measure.

Small State Village to Get National Attention

Pardeeville Being Used as Typical Example In Promotion by Industrial Development Unit

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The little village of Pardeeville, nestled in the hills of south central Wisconsin, is destined for the kind of national attention it has never had before.

Pardeeville has been chosen by the state industrial development division as a symbol of the attractions of Wisconsin for business and industry. In a national promotion campaign now underway.

The 1957 legislature approved an experimental $100,000 advertising fund for Wisconsin industrial promotion. The division will use Pardeeville as the keynote in the first phase of the campaign, in a number of national media that have a circulation of 1,500,000 among business and industrial leaders of the nation.

New Industry Pardeeville is the home of a rapidly expanding small manufacturing industry, the All-American Scoreboard company, which has been built with the eager help of the community and its residents.

The firm produces scoreboards for major and minor league baseball parks, gymnasiums, as well as signs used by many companies.

Its rapid recent growth required plant expansion. Citizens of the community subscribed $80,000 to finance a new structure. When construction was slowed, citizens of the community volunteered their labor to help.

The purpose of the national publicity campaign is to suggest to business executives everywhere that Wisconsin has many other Pardeevilles, and that the spirit and climate of the little agricultural village are typical of the state as a whole.

The Pardeeville Industrial Development corporation is sponsoring a luncheon and open house celebration there May 13. Invitations have gone out to political and industrial leaders. Gov. Thomson will be the chief speaker.
